Congratulations from Chancellor Volety

Dear Class of 2025,

Congratulations! Today, we gather to celebrate your remarkable achievements at the University of North Carolina Wilmington. UNCW is immensely proud of your academic achievements, campus leadership, community engagement, hard work and resilience.

As Chancellor, I am inspired by your legacy at UNCW; your energy and ideas have made our university even stronger. I encourage you to remain engaged with UNCW throughout your lives. Your participation enriches our community and ensures that future generations benefit from your involvement.

A higher education from UNCW not only equips you with knowledge, but also connects you to a lifelong network of opportunity and support. Your Seahawk family will always be here for you, ready to help you soar to new heights.

As you step into the future, remember what you learned at UNCW. Embrace every opportunity for growth. Cultivate strong connections with the people in your lives. Wherever your journey leads you next, continue working with others to create a world filled with hope, innovation and endless possibilities.

Go forth and soar, Seahawks!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Aswani K. Volety'. The signature is stylized with a large, sweeping 'V' at the end.

Aswani K. Volety, Ph.D.
Chancellor

Congratulations from Provost Winebrake

Dear Class of 2025,

Congratulations, you made it! We are thrilled to be here in celebration of your hard work, dedication and commitment to excellence – and especially your ability to uphold our university motto, Discere Aude or “Dare to Learn.”

Looking at this impressive list of baccalaureate, master’s and doctoral candidates, I speak for everyone when I say we could not be prouder. I hope you feel pride and fulfillment for all that you have accomplished on your UNCW journey, especially your successful completion of rigorous coursework and final projects. Know that we are all cheering loudly today as we celebrate your achievements!

Your path at UNCW has no doubt led you to lessons and memories that are unique to you and your classmates. These experiences will always be a part of who you are. Continue to uphold the courage and commitment to excellence that you have demonstrated as a Seahawk. Remember that curiosity is a key characteristic of great leaders and great citizens. I encourage you to keep asking questions, expanding your knowledge, exploring new horizons and “daring to learn” as you take on life’s next adventure.

As a graduate of UNCW, you are prepared to take on the future and I wish you every success as you do so. Wings up, and soar high, Seahawks!

Sincerely,

James J. Winebrake, Ph.D.
Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs

*Congratulations from
Vice Chancellor Reed Davis*

Dear UNCW Graduates,

Congratulations on reaching this tremendous milestone in your life! Today, we celebrate not only your academic achievements but also your resilience, growth and unwavering commitment to your goals. You have reached the finish line of this part of your journey, and we could not be prouder of all that you have accomplished.

Throughout your time at UNCW, you have navigated challenges, embraced new opportunities, and built lasting friendships. You have contributed to our Seahawk community in ways that have strengthened our campus and left a legacy for those who will follow. Whether through your academic dedication, involvement in campus life or your service to others, you have shown what it means to be a true Seahawk.

As you prepare to move forward, carry with you the lessons, values and experiences that have shaped you here at UNCW. Be confident in your abilities, stay open to new perspectives and continue to approach the world with the same dedication and compassion that you demonstrated here. Remember that your UNCW family will always be here, cheering you on as you step into the future.

Once again, congratulations, Class of 2025! I look forward to hearing about the incredible contributions you will make in your careers, communities and beyond.

With Seahawk pride and best wishes,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Christine R. Davis". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Christine Reed Davis, Ed.D.
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

THE UNIVERSITY

Widely celebrated as the state's coastal university, the University of North Carolina Wilmington was established in 1947 as Wilmington College and joined the University of North Carolina System in 1969. Today, the university is a top national institution with over 18,800 students, more than 2,500 faculty and staff, 171 buildings and an ever-growing alumni network of more than 106,000.

Putting students first, offering powerful learning experiences, nationally prominent programs and a commitment to community engagement are UNCW's hallmarks.

The university offers numerous bachelor's, master's and doctoral programs across its colleges and schools. Its main academic units are: Cameron School of Business, College of Health and Human Services, College of Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts, College of Science and Engineering and Watson College of Education.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia recognizes the bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees, each derived from medieval university customs.

The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, takes its name from the medieval practice of "bachelors" who wore a garland of bayberries to distinguish their status. They wore gowns of worsted material, fastened at the top, with pointed sleeves hanging to the knees.

The master's degree was equivalent to a "license to teach." The gown has long, closed sleeves with a slit for the arm near the middle of each sleeve. The master's hood is three and a half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet.

The doctoral degree indicated advanced study and independent research in a specialized field. The gown is faced with a broad strip of velvet and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

The hood is four feet long and faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned: white, arts; yellow, sciences; light blue, education; apricot, nursing; light brown, business.

Each hood is lined in silk with the colors of the institution which grants the degree. UNCW's is lined with green and gold.

All degrees have a black mortarboard. A black tassel, or one in colors signifying the graduate's field of specialization, hangs to the left of the face. Those with a doctoral degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study or a mortarboard with a tassel in whole or in part of golden thread.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

Discere Aude

The seal of the University of North Carolina Wilmington has evolved. Originally, there were no pine boughs on the seal. A compass, square, quill and triangle were depicted to represent the pre-engineering program offered by Wilmington College.

Today's seal retains the triangle as a reference to our roots, adds the pine boughs for the longleaf pine, indigenous to North Carolina, and the scroll for a diploma-issuing university. The UNCW Seahawk mascot appears at the top of the pine boughs. 1947, the year of the establishment of Wilmington College, appears at the bottom.

UNCW's motto, Discere Aude, was created by William Madison Randall, president of Wilmington College from 1958-68. It has been defined as both "Dare to learn" and "In order to discover the truth firsthand, be courageous!"

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The UNCW mace, carried by the chief faculty marshal at commencement, incorporates elements and materials important to the history of our university and region. The boss, or top of the mace, represents the essence of education, the flame of learning. It was designed to embody the timeless pursuit of knowledge and quest for truth.

Below the boss are four official seals important to the university's history. They represent New Hanover County, Wilmington College, the University of North Carolina System and UNCW. Five bands on the shaft symbolize the university's five colleges.

The terminus, or end piece, consists of a longleaf pine cone to symbolize the longleaf pine tree common to the landscape of southeastern North Carolina. The longleaf pine is also the state tree. The mace was designed by Jeff Morvil, a Wilmington artist, and created by Marvin Jensen, a sculptor from Penland.

UNCW FIGHT SONG

UNC, Wilmington

It's blue, teal, gold for me.

Soaring Seahawks, scoring Seahawks

Champions of land and sea.

Go Hawks!

The Seahawk team we proudly hail,

Our Seahawk pride will never fail.

Hail to thee, O mighty Seahawks.

On to victory!

Go Hawks!

UNCW ALMA MATER

Hail we proudly sing to thee who guides
our green and gold.

Though future years may part us,
fond memories we shall hold.

For our hearts will cherish all your service done;
All hail our alma mater, praise thee, O Wilmington!

Here we stand as one together voices raised in song.

Our loyal hearts praise thee as God doth lead us on.

Dare to learn and dare to soar,
Seahawks brave and true:

All hail our alma mater praise teal, gold and blue!

*Charles Hunnicutt, Lloyd Hudson
Rev. Steven Errante, Cathy Albergo*

GRADUATES AND PROGRAMS

The following pages include the names of the May 2025 degree candidates. Candidate degree conferrals are contingent on the successful completion of all requirements. Candidates will be reviewed and have their degree(s) officially conferred 6-8 weeks after grades have posted only if all requirements have been met. Distinction will be recalculated after final grades are posted and will be printed on students' transcripts and diploma(s).

HONORARY DEGREE

Linda Sayed '78, '85M

Family Law Specialist and Partner at Block, Crouch, Keeter, Behm & Sayed, LLP

Linda Sayed's recent transformative gift to her alma mater will support UNCW's programs in medical education, clinical care, research and healthcare accessibility, supporting a wide range of healthcare professional workforce programs and research initiatives as well as programs to recruit and train prospective teachers.

Today, May 10, 2025, the University of North Carolina Wilmington is proud to award her the degree Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, in recognition of her numerous achievements and contributions, particularly in the areas of healthcare and workforce development for the benefit of the people of North Carolina and beyond.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School supports the Cameron School of Business, the College of Health and Human Services, the College of Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts, the College of Science and Engineering and the Watson College of Education to create intellectually stimulating graduate degree programs that are responsive to North Carolina's workforce needs and foster scholarly learning, research, teaching and service.

The university's graduate programs are taught by world-class faculty committed to providing meaningful opportunities for interdisciplinary research, career advancement, fellowship and mentorship. Our degrees offer the ability to specialize in business, education, science, healthcare, logistics, technology, social services, industry, conservation, management, the arts or humanities.

Online and on-campus advanced degree programs at the master's and doctoral levels are available. Certificate programs and add-on licensure options are also available for career advancement. Students can also work toward two degrees simultaneously through dual degree offerings. Many programs offer full-time, part-time and accelerated options. All students can expect a supportive environment in their pursuit of academic, professional and personal accomplishment and excellence.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

The College of Health and Human Services is dedicated to providing degree programs that place students on the path to a rewarding career in the health and human services field through our three professional schools: the School of Health and Applied Human Sciences, the School of Nursing, and the School of Social Work. With a mission to improve health and well-being, CHHS provides a transformative education that integrates research, hands-on learning and interdisciplinary collaboration to address the evolving needs of individuals and communities.

CHHS students gain valuable experience through research, fieldwork and clinical practice, ensuring they graduate with the skills and knowledge to make an immediate impact in their fields. By engaging in scholarly activities and collaborative projects on campus and beyond, students develop a holistic understanding of social, emotional and physical challenges. These real-world experiences prepare graduates for success in diverse professional settings, from hospitals and clinics to nonprofit organizations and government agencies.

Committed to enhancing health and quality of life, CHHS emphasizes service to southeastern North Carolina, notably within rural and underserved communities. Faculty, staff and students actively contribute to local health initiatives, outreach programs and research that address pressing public health challenges. Through these efforts, CHHS strengthens the region's healthcare infrastructure and empowers communities to thrive.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES, SOCIAL SCIENCES, AND THE ARTS

The College of Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts is home to 14 departments offering a wide variety of undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Applied learning is a hallmark of the student experience in CHSSA. Each department requires an applied learning experience as a part of the curriculum for undergraduate majors. Faculty-directed research, internships, service learning, capstone courses and projects challenge students to integrate various strands of knowledge and to apply that knowledge to broad, real-world and real disciplinary situations.

CHSSA contributes significantly to the University Studies program, which provides undergraduates a foundation in the liberal arts and develops transferable skills for life in the 21st century. Our undergraduate programs and University Study offerings nurture creative thinking, intellectual curiosity, inclusive understanding and academic integrity in students while providing a solid foundation of knowledge in their chosen fields. Our graduate programs are designed to develop intellectual competence and prepare students for careers in a wide variety of sectors or further study at the master's and doctoral levels.

Upon completion of their studies, CHSSA students move on to rewarding careers, advanced study, effective citizenship and meaningful lives. CHSSA offers limitless opportunities to engage in collaborative and interdisciplinary research and service while making a positive societal impact and each graduate emerges from their studies inspired, connected and prepared.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

The College of Science and Engineering is committed to cultivating a dynamic interdisciplinary community of learners, scholars and innovators in science and engineering. Our mission is to provide an education that promotes curiosity, fosters creative thinking and equips individuals with the skills and knowledge needed to solve complex local, regional and global challenges.

CSE provides instruction and research opportunities in the natural and behavioral sciences, computer science, mathematics and statistics, pre-engineering and engineering. The departments and programs provide courses of study in each of these areas, in addition to interdepartmental programs in information technology, data science, cybersecurity and digital arts. Students engage in hands-on learning, research and collaboration that enhances technical expertise and leadership abilities. Whether through coursework, lab experiences or industry partnerships, CSE graduates emerge as forward-thinking leaders who drive innovation in technology, discovery and understanding, and develop impactful solutions.

CSE collaborates with local industries and organizations to support excellence in research and innovation in STEM. By fostering partnerships, the college strengthens the region's technological landscape and prepares graduates to contribute to the state's evolving scientific and engineering fields.

WATSON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The Watson College of Education offers degree and credential programs ranging from undergraduate to doctoral education. High-quality programs, extensive applied learning opportunities and a collaborative learning environment are a few of the reasons why students choose Watson.

Watson's teacher preparation programs provide students opportunities to gradually build their teaching skills. Students observe local classrooms, practice methods through supervised teaching in the Education Lab and participate in field experiences in area schools before completing a full-semester student teaching internship. Student support doesn't end after graduation; the college offers the First Years of Teaching Support program and professional development seminars to help alumni maintain success in the classroom.

At the graduate level, Watson prepares professionals to succeed in any setting where teaching and learning occurs, from preschool through college and in a range of specialized fields. Master's degree and add-on licensure programs help Pre-K to 12 teachers improve in a specialized field. School administration programs provide a strong foundation for future principals and school superintendents.

Watson also prepares professionals for success in community colleges, university settings and a range of specialized fields, including instructional technology and evaluation. Authentic learning experiences through internships, research projects, international travel and applied learning opportunities offered in partnership with schools, colleges, businesses and community organizations, are a hallmark of the programs we offer professionals at virtually any stage of their career journey.
